Access and Use: The Otis Historical Archives is committed to providing open access to its collections as far as possible within the limits of privacy and confidentiality. Access to this collection is at the discretion of the Otis Historical Archives and material contained within the records may be subject to review before access is granted. Files containing private patient information and protected administrative and grant records are currently closed to researchers.

Series/Scope and Content Note: Office records of Orla O'Reilly, who was employed by the Museum from 1988 to 1993. O'Reilly served as head of the Education Office and its successor, the Public Programs Office. She also served briefly as the Museum's office manager. During her tenure, the Museum participated in a number of conferences and public programs, at the Museum and elsewhere, on such topics as AIDS, mental health, alternative medicine, substance abuse, and public policy. O'Reilly acted as liaison between the Museum and many local and national organizations. Materials primarily include correspondence, collected information, and plans for meetings and programs.
